Thoughtful design
for little ones and modern living.

About US

We are an integrated manufacturer specializing in baby changing tables, toddler balance bikes, tricycles, and metal-frame family products for international brands and retailers.

From raw material processing to final assembly, our coordinated production system combines tube cutting, stamping, bending, robotic welding, powder coating, injection molding, sewing, assembly, and quality inspection under one integrated manufacturing workflow.

Supported by experienced engineering, tooling, and product development teams, we provide flexible OEM & ODM solutions tailored to different market and branding requirements. Our products are developed with patented structures, practical functionality, and reliable production standards designed for long-term market performance.

Based in Ningbo, China, we support customers across Europe, North America, Japan, South Korea, and other international markets with dependable manufacturing, flexible customization, and long-term partnership solutions.

MAIBI Brand Story

Founded in 2015 in Ningbo, China, MAIBI® is a family-focused juvenile products brand dedicated to creating practical, safe, and thoughtfully designed products for modern parents and children.

Since its establishment, MAIBI has built its product philosophy around five core principles: Safety, Functionality, Sustainability, Innovation, and User Experience. These values guide every stage of product development, from concept design and engineering to manufacturing and quality control.

Over the years, MAIBI has independently developed a range of baby and toddler products, including diaper changing tables, safety gates, travel cribs, balance bikes, ride-on toys, and other family-oriented solutions designed to support everyday parenting.

Backed by KDT's integrated manufacturing capabilities, MAIBI combines product innovation with reliable production standards, allowing us to continuously improve functionality, durability, and user experience while maintaining consistent quality.

Today, MAIBI products are trusted by families and retail partners across multiple international markets. As we continue to grow, our commitment remains unchanged: creating safe, practical, and well-designed products that support children's development and make everyday family life easier.
